MAHILA MAHAVIDYALAYA

BANARAS HINDU UNIVERSITY

VARANASI (U.P.), INDIA

ABOUT BHU

Banaras Hindu University (BHU) founded by Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malviya in 1916, is one of the most prestigious Central Universities in the country. Being a living embodiment of such visionaries as Mahamana Malaviyaji, Dr. Annie Besant and Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, this seat of learning epitomizes synthesis of ancient wisdom and modern scientific temper. The University is situated on the western bank of the holy river Ganga in the pious city of Varanasi, the religious capital of India and centre of Oriental Learning. The University comprises 5 Institutes, 15 Faculties, 130 Departments, Mahila Mahavidyalaya 4 Inter disciplinary Centres, 14 UGC Special Assistance Programs, a Constituent College for Women and 3 Constituent Schools. The 1200-bed (approx.) Sir Sunderlal Hospital of the University is equipped with modern amenities and caters to the healthcare needs of the vast population of eastern UP, parts of Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Jharkhand, Chattisgarh and adjoining Nepal. A good number of students from abroad including from USA, Europe, Middle East, Asia, Africa etc. get admitted in various academic programs in the University every year.

About the Department

Home Science was introduced in 1929 from the very inception of Mahila Mahavidyalaya by Pandit Madan Mohan Malviya. Later in 1975 it was upgraded to statutory Department of Home Science. In 1984-85 M.A./M.Sc. Home Science was started. Home Science is an interdisciplinary field of study comprising of Food and Nutrition, Human Development, Resource Management, Textile and Clothing and Extension and Communication. The individual, the family and the community are the foci of Home Science. The department has a team of well qualified and energetic faculty members who have good academic and research credentials.

About The Conference

The impact of social change and technology on family and community can only be understood in the details of daily life. Technology is building the world of work and the world of home in base that redefine what it means to be in each. Some changes are dramatic, others are subtle, but the changes are experienced in the mundane activities of every day life. The family in India is often understood as a homogenous unit with strong coping mechanisms. It is a basic cohesive and integral unit of larger social systems. Moreover, families in a large and culturally diverse country such as India have plurality of forms that vary with class, ethnicity and individual choices. Its members are bound by interpersonal relationship in wider network of role and social relations. It is considered a link between community and change. At this critical juncture of time the National Conference on Impact of Social Change and Technology on Family and Community by the Department of Home Science, Banaras Hindu University to bring together industry representatives, academicians, research scholars and students to disseminate their ideas and contributions that focus on the current issues of the national conference.
